

Teach with Intent

Empowering Teachers with Practical Classroom Skills

Teach with Intent is a unique and dynamic face-to-face programme designed to hone classroom practice using Rosenshine's Principles and the most pertinent educational research as its foundation.

In a dynamic approach to teacher development, Teach with Intent has a distinctive focus on the live demonstration of teaching strategies, providing teachers with an immersive learning experience. Led by Claire Grimes (author and Professional Development Lead), this one-day programme will leave teachers confident in their understanding of how students can achieve deeper, more secure learning outcomes.

From self-reflection to understanding Rosenshine's pivotal insights, and focusing on high-impact strategies like modelling, questioning, and supporting independent practice, this programme provides comprehensive, actionable tools that can be instantly utilised in the classroom.

Who will thrive?

It is a huge loss to the profession that 67% of ECTs leave by their fifth year. High quality professional development that builds on the learning from those early years is essential if we want to retain the very best practitioners.

Teach with Intent is designed to continue developing teachers most recently out of their ECT years and ensure that they are equipped with knowledge and approaches that build on their existing learning. Equally, teachers at any stage of their career, looking to refresh or develop their classroom practice, will undoubtedly benefit.

What to Expect on the Day

- Live Modelling for Impact: Experience teaching strategies come to life as participants engage with live demonstrations of highest leverage strategies focusing on modelling and questioning. This hands-on approach allows educators to see effective methods in action, bridging the gap between theory and practice.
- Comprehensive Exploration and Reflection: The programme starts with self-reflection, empowering teachers to identify strengths and areas for development. Participants will delve into Rosenshine's Principles, exploring why they are essential in today's educational landscape, and engage in focused discussions using Rosenshine's Principles in Action: The Workbook.
- Immediate and Lasting Change: With dedicated time to plan both immediate and long-term improvements, teachers will leave with actionable strategies ready to be implemented in their classrooms, ensuring a lasting impact on their teaching practice.
